The Gift of Greece to Civilization

Meet the Speaker

Athanasios Sarantopoulos

The Golden Ratio/Mean is considered a divine proportion. It is a fundamental concept in art, mathematics and nature, represented by the Greek letter ϕ (phi). This principle has influenced architectural designs, artistic compositions, and even natural patterns like those found in shells.

Providing today's lecture is Athanasios Sarantopoulos, a Mathematics Instructor for the Cleveland Metropolitan School District and Adjunct Professor for Cleveland State University. He received a Master of Science in Mathematics from Youngstown State University and a dual bachelor's Degree in Modern Greek and Mathematics from the Ohio State University. Athanasios serves on multiple philanthropic boards, including HPS, and is a Cleveland Cultural Garden Federation delegate. Athanasios actively engages his musical talents at Greek functions and is a chanter for Annunciation Greek Orthodox Church in Cleveland. Through learning the Golden Ratio, Sarantopoulos explains there is a deeper appreciation for the interconnectedness of art and science.
